

UE4 February Newsletter

Dear Parents,

Happy February!! We are full of projects and ideas for a great continuation of our school year. So please read, highlight, and be aware of all the activities and projects for the coming month.

Parent Volunteers

Thanks to all our wonderful families who keep helping us and supporting all our projects. Thanks to Mr. Chaney and Mrs. Conklin for their help during recess time. We also want to thank Mrs. Lee for coming to the reading buddies program.

New Classroom routines:

Students were introduced to a higher level of expectation with their Science and Social Studies work plans. Now they have to earn 40 points in projects from level C, instead of just three projects from that level. Now some students might need to do more projects to earn the points, if they decide to do only the easy ones. The time frame will remain the same. They will have three weeks for level C and three weeks for level B and A. Please let us know if you have questions or comments in regards to this change. Thanks for your support in your child's success.

Library Helper for this month (Could anybody help us, Please?)

We are in need of books on the following topics:

Science:

Food chains, Food pyramids, light, color, sound, Ecosystems, human impact in the ecosystems.

Social Studies:

Industrial revolution, Enlightenment, Inventions (history and evolution), and European Union.

Family Breakfast: February 14 from 8:10 to 9:00.

As it's becoming a tradition in our school, we will be having a Family breakfast on Valentine's Day. We are attaching a list with all the possible choices for you to contribute to the breakfast. Please remember our healthy guidelines: no candy, cake, cupcakes, cookies or corn syrup based beverages. Also, a reminder that students will not be placing candy or store bought Valentines in classmates' backpacks, so please do not send them to school. They may exchange student made valentines without specific names on them. We will prepare an activity during class time for our students. Please sign up with Mrs. Perez at koehlerperez@gmail.com to bring some food for the event. We are attaching a list of choices with this Newsletter
