Casa Esperanza Montessori Charter School PFA

Who We Are

Casa Esperanza Montessori is a private preschool for children ages 3-5 years and a public charter school for grades Kindergarten through Eighth. Casa stands out as one of the most diverse charter schools in North Carolina. Our families comprise business owners, teachers, medical professionals, attorneys, and military members, among others. Nearly one-third of our families are bilingual and half of students are immersed in a Spanish language environment throughout the school day. Students from Casa live in Wake, Durham, Johnston, Franklin, and Granville counties.

What We Do

The Casa PFA is a non-profit fundraising and community-building association run by parent and faculty volunteers. Our mission is to support Casa students, teachers, and faculty in their ability to excel in education while creating a strong sense of community. Our Montessori education works to build independence and increase a child's self-motivation. Our students come from a variety of racial backgrounds, and our staff come from 12 countries around the world, making them as diverse as our student population. At Casa we believe diversity is one of our strengths, and we teach our students that our community is family; in partnering with us, your support means that you're investing in our future leaders and local community.
